Aviation Center Retrofit and Expansion Groundbreaking
Celebrating 40 years of Serving the Aviation Industry

TAKE OFF

Aviation Center Retrofit and Expansion

15, 300 square feet • $10.2 million • Completion: Fall 2012

In the fall of 1971, San Diego Miramar College expanded its mission from exclusively providing public safety training to serving the aviation industry. Miramar College's aviation maintenance technology program – approved by the FAA, would become the primary supplier of trained technicians for the next 15 years for San Diego-based Pacific Southwest Airlines (PSA), "World's Friendliest Airline." In 1991, the aviation ground school and operations program moved from San Diego Mesa College to the Miramar campus, enabling Miramar College to serve the entire aviation industry.
